ACCOMMODATION AUSTRALIA NSW PARTNERS WITH NOVACANCY FOR SECOND YEAR

Accommodation Australia NSW is proud to celebrate the second year of its Platinum partnership with Australia's premier hotel and accommodation event, NoVacancy.

This ongoing collaboration underscores a mutual dedication to fostering knowledge exchange, empowering industry experts, and driving a more sustainable future in the hotel and accommodation sector.

NoVacancy remains the pinnacle event for those in the hotel and accommodation industry, annually gathering numerous influencers, suppliers, and pioneers to discuss emerging trends, actionable strategies, and innovative technologies.

"Partnering with National Media for NoVacancy, one of the nation's most significant hotel and accommodation exhibitions, is a privilege," Accommodation Australia NSW General Manager, Stacey McBride said.

"This event allows Accommodation Australia NSW to significantly expand our reach and is another avenue to directly engage with our member general managers and corporate partners, and to network extensively within the hotel and accommodation industry."

In 2024, NoVacancy will feature more than 250 vendors presenting the latest in product innovation, practical solutions, and groundbreaking technology—all under one roof.

The event will also include seven focused summits and over 50 targeted sessions, offering unparalleled educational opportunities tailored to the specific needs of attendees, all available at no cost.

"We are thrilled to announce our continued partnership with Accommodation Australia NSW for the upcoming NoVacancy event," Event Director at NoVacancy Hotel & Accommodation Industry Expo, Matt Gatfield said.

"Their unwavering commitment to excellence and innovation in the sector aligns seamlessly with our mission to provide a dynamic platform for industry professionals,"

NoVacancy will run from 18 - 19 September 2024 at the ICC Sydney. Pre-register and find out more at <https://novacancy.com.au/>
